Hello everyone,

It's been Christmas Making Day today and the children have had a lovely time making their classrooms look jolly festive! We very much look forward to the last two weeks of term and the fun that it brings. Children in Year 2 are having a go at writing their very own exciting Polar Express story in the coming days. Who will board the train to the North Pole? I cannot wait to read them and see how the children have used their wonderful imaginations.

Best wishes

Mr Pope

Parking

For the safety of our school community please do not park on double yellow lines, single yellow lines, school zig-zag lines and on corners.

Year 1

Next week will be the outcome of our dinosaur project which means the children will be selling their fossils at the end of the school day next week in their own fossil shop just like Mary Anning.

As well as this, the children will be completing their own news report for which a private youtube link will be emailed when ready.

Uniform Orders

We have been informed by our uniform provider Mapac, that they will not be able to deliver orders for children's zip-up fleeces to us until the end of January. Due to the current situation they have had great difficulty sourcing the fleeces from the manufacturers but have assured us that, if they can find an alternative supplier before January, they will get the orders out to us sooner.
