Reading at home

It is great to hear so many children talk about their love of reading and to see the progress they are making. As adults, it is one of our most important jobs to make sure children learn to read and develop a love for reading. Whilst the journey to becoming a lifelong reader may prove challenging at first, with plenty of perseverance, practise and belief they will get there in the end. Please remember that your child reading to a patient adult daily for a few minutes makes a huge difference and of course their day would not be complete without a bedtime story from you!

Cold weather

It is chilly out on the playground at the moment and so a suitable winter coat is very much what is needed. Please make sure they are clearly named.

Crazy Christmas Cracker

I am glad the children enjoyed watching the videos; Indy enjoyed making them and Finn took great pleasure in splatting me in the face! There have been lots of answer sheets handed to me so far so thank you for these. It is not too late to hand yours in with the last day being next Wednesday 12th January. I will announce the winner next week.

Covid-19

Thank you for working with us to keep as many children in school as possible. I appreciate lateral flow tests are not easy to come by but, if you can, testing your child twice weekly is greatly appreciated.
